DETAILED ACTION

Response to Applicant's Preliminary Amendment

This Office Action is in response to applicant's preliminary amendment filed on July 19, 2004. Claims 1-8, 15-18, 20, and 21 have been cancelled, rendering claims 9-14, 19, and 20 pending.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9-14, 19, and 20 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the art of record when considered alone or in combination neither renders obvious a method for controlling fluid flow to and from a phacoemulsification handpiece, the handpiece including an ultrasonically driven, hollow needle, said method comprising the steps of:

inserting the needle into an eye for phacoemulsification of eye tissue;

introducing irrigation fluid into the eye;

aspirating fluid from the eye through hollow needle;

determining the initial irrigation fluid pressure;

adjusting irrigation fluid flow and aspiration fluid flow based on the determined initial irrigation fluid pressure;

continuously determining irrigation fluid pressure after the initial determination;

and

continuously adjusting irrigation fluid flow and aspiration fluid flow based on the continuously determination of irrigation fluid pressure in order to accommodate changes in needle incision size and would stretching during eye surgery.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Patent No. 6,013,049 (Rockley et al) discloses in the figure an apparatus and method for removing a natural lens from an eye and is more particularly directed to phacoemulsification comprising elements and steps as recited in applicant's claims but does not appears to teach the steps of determining the initial irrigation fluid pressure.

U.S. Patent No. 5,766,146 (Barwick, Jr.) discloses an apparatus and method for minimizing excess intraocular pressure during a phacoemulsification procedure comprising elements and steps set forth in applicant's claims including the step of determining an initial irrigation fluid pressure (column 4 lines 15-17) but does not appear to teach the steps adjusting both the irrigation fluid flow and the aspiration fluid flow based on the determined initial irrigation fluid pressure.

U.S. Patent No. 5,865,764 (Moorhead) discloses a device and method for noninvasive measurement of internal pressure within body cavities comprising elements and steps as recited in applicant's claims but does not appear to teach the steps adjusting both the irrigation fluid flow and the aspiration fluid flow based on the determined initial irrigation fluid pressure.
